SINGLE-USE OPEN CIRCUIT CPAP DELIVERY SYSTEM

Continuous positive airway pressure (CPAP) has been proven to provide an effective method of treating respiratory distress from congestive heart failure (CHF). By minimizing the pressure drop on inspiration and the peak pressure on expiration, the O-Two single-use open CPAP delivery system produces a more uniform CPAP pressure throughout the respiratory cycle. This provides a lower work of breathing for the patient when compared to other, commonly used, pre-hospital devices. Small, compact and lightweight, this device features low oxygen consumption at 8-25 L/min for 5-20 cmH2O of CPAP.
